

The Art of Justice & Peace Education

Edmund Rice Education Australia is a national not-for-profit organisation that provides a range of resources and support to schools and educators across Australia. Our mission is to promote the values of justice and peace through education, and to provide a safe and inclusive environment for all students. We are committed to the development of young people who are confident, resilient and capable of making a positive difference to the world.

Head – Reading the Signs of the Times

Justice and peace education helps young people to:

- understand the signs of the times and the challenges facing the world today
- identify the root causes of social and environmental issues
- develop critical thinking skills and the ability to analyse complex issues
- engage in dialogue and debate with others

Heart – Nurturing Gospel Compassion

Justice and peace education helps young people to:

- understand the Gospel message of love and compassion
- develop empathy and the ability to understand the experiences of others
- identify the needs of the most vulnerable in society
- engage in acts of service and social justice
- develop a sense of responsibility and care for the common good

Hands – Undertaking Prophetic Action

Justice and peace education helps young people to:

- understand the role of the church in society
- identify the issues that require prophetic action
- develop the courage and conviction to speak truth to power
- engage in social and political activism
- work for the transformation of society

Feet – Moving to Solidarity

Justice and peace education helps young people to:

- understand the importance of solidarity
- identify the common good and the needs of the community
- develop the ability to work with others
- engage in social and political activism
- work for the transformation of society
